The Way in the 21st Century

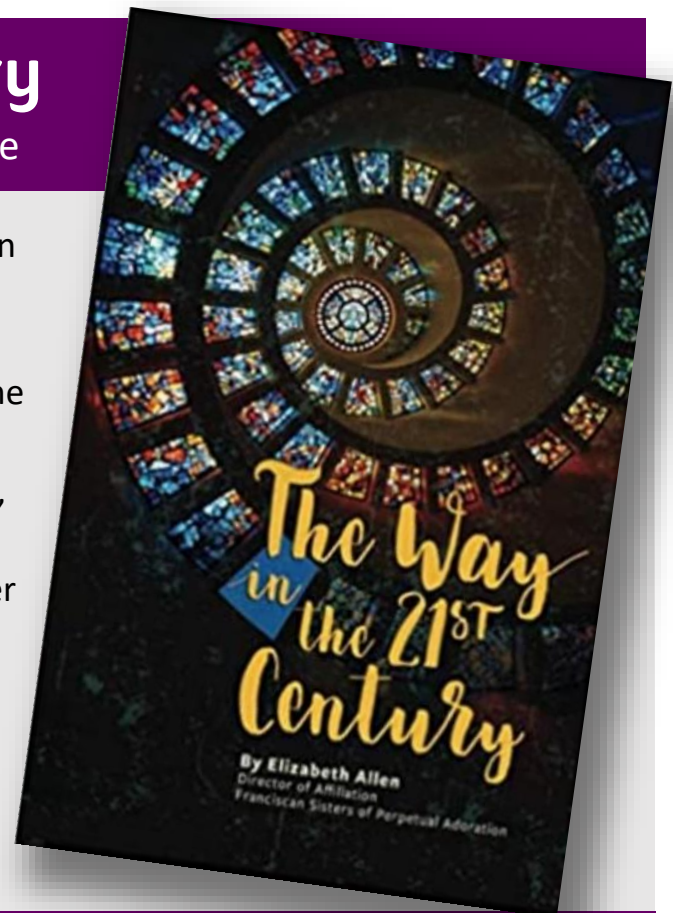

by Elizabeth Allen, FSPA Affiliate

The Way, meaning the “way of life,” is the name given to the early Jewish communities who were attracted to Jesus and his teachings. Today, we look to a world in turmoil and division and need to be reminded of the way, fostered by the life of Jesus. Join with others to explore how reflection, presence, simplicity, humility, peacemaking, stewardship, and service create a framework for how we can be in relationship together as we journey on our “way” in the 21st century.

Life flows through our relations with others...we can only build the future by standing together, including everyone.
